Yanaway Heyona traditional Iroquois Calling Song

arr. Brian Tate

Cantori

Oye

Jim Papoulis

All alone, in the darkness, they are crying out for your help
They are hoping, they are dreaming, they are asking, for a change to be heard.
Are you listening, can you hear their cries?
They are watching, they are listening, they are searching to find their way
Can you see them, can you hear them calling
What their voices are trying to say?

Pastir Dobri Croatian

Ivan Bozicevic

When the heavenly stars shed their gold and silver upon the dark water, remember the night when the Good Shepherd walked over the restless sea

And told them gently "Don't be afraid!"

Lighter than gentle star dust, lovelier than a dream while floating over water above all cares, doubts, and fear.

When the time comes that the glow of stars is smothered and darkness rules the world,

I will dream of his reflection over the water, for the Good Shepherd is the light itself.

Tree of the lonely soul, wide opening of the riversidenow you will be able to say: Here slept Cantaclaor.
With the whistle and the sting of the twisting wind,
the dappled and violet dusk quietly entered the corral.
The night, tired mar, shakes her mane and black tail above the riverside; and, in its silence, your ghostly heart is filled with awe.

Rejoice, O Virgin Theotokos, Mary full of grace, the Lord is with Thee. Blessed art Thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of Thy womb, for Thou hast borne the Savior of our souls.

Come, come my Life, under the canopy. Come under the blue brocade sky!

lota by iota, I have lost my life. In faith I've passed this night dancing on coals;

I blew away the sleep that was in my eyes; I counted the stars 'til my finger burned.

Dance! Dance! Now with me, you dance for today, for our day of movements.

No matter what problems may be: Cheers! Cheers!
